Experience a week in a pristine wilderness setting in the comfort of a Montana log cabin. There is a certain spirit in Montana that is difficult to define. This mountain cabin is the place that captures where you might just find it.

The cabin rests on 10-acres on the slope of Mount Maurice, above the canyon that is the entrance to the Beartooth Pass. Just an hour and a half from the Northeast entrance to Yellowstone National Park, you will enjoy incredible scenery and true Big Sky Country peace and quiet. The home is as expansive as the views with three levels of living areas, which enables everyone in the group to have as much privacy as they desire.

This cozy log home features five bedrooms and three baths. If the evenings get chilly or you find yourselves inside on a rainy day, radiant floor heat will chase away any chill. Better yet, enjoy the gas stove in the walkout basement or build a fire in the gorgeous natural stone fireplace in the vaulted living room.

Other comfort and leisure amenities include a custom whole-home music system, home theatre room, wet bar, master bath with air-jet tub, outdoor fire pit and gas grill, Adirondack deck chairs, porch swing, hammock and hammock swing chairs.

The town of Red Lodge, Montana, is one of the best small towns anywhere. It's also been dubbed "The Coolest Ski Town You've Never Heard Of". Here you'll find a wonderful variety of shops, art galleries, live music venues and great dining options. Award-winning chefs create food you'd never expect to find in a town this size. Don't miss the Bear Creek Saloon and Steakhouse and Pig Races just half an hour away in the town of Bear Creek and be sure you check out Babcock and Miles, a gourmet food and wine store, which can provide the perfect gourmet touches for meals you decide to prepare at the cabin.

For outdoor enthusiasts, there's a perfect activity for every interest including whitewater rafting, horseback riding, fly fishing, hiking, mountain biking and more. A generous activity allowance is included with your stay, and you can choose 2 half-day activities for your group of 10 to enjoy. Options are: whitewater rafting, horseback riding or a guided hike.

You can plan your trip on your own, or the property manager will be happy to provide the guidance you need to have just the kind of Montana experience that's perfect for your group.

Prepare to create Big Sky Country memories that will last a lifetime!
